the movement ARENA meets BadenBreaks

In January, the spotlight belongs to the next generation.

Achieving more together! At »the movement ARENA Youth Edition meets BadenBreaks« young people play an active role in shaping the event. From organization and social media to hosting and production. 14- to 24-year-olds take on responsibility and are accompanied by experienced Movementors. On the dance floor too, it's all about the next generation. Kids, Youth and Beginners from Switzerland and neighboring countries meet for battles, showcases, cypher sessions and plenty of networking. For families, friends, breaking fans, and anyone who wants to experience breaking and urban dance live, the Youth Edition marks the start of the 2027 arena season.

Categories for participation

We invite all junior and pre-professional B-Girls and B-Boys to participate in our 1vs1 Breaking Battles. There are two different age categories. Qualification for the Knock-Out-Battles takes place as a 4-Corner-Preselection for each category. Our judges will select the most impressive B-Girls and B-Boys from these rounds.

• 1vs1 B-Girl Kids (up to 12 years old) •
• 1vs1 B-Boy Kids / B-Boy Kids Pro-Am (up to 12 years old) •
• 1vs1 B-Girl Youth (13 to 18 years) •
• 1vs1 B-Boy Youth (13 to 18 years) •

Many young talents are still at the beginning of their battle journey. We want to create a space for exactly that. In the 1vs1 B-Boy Kids category (up to 12 years old), the field is divided after the pre-selection. The eight top-ranked participants then continue battling in their own »Pro Am« field. The next 16 form the »Newcomer« field and compete for the win there. This is how it comes to more appropriate Match-ups, fair chances and above all more battle experience for everyone.

In all categories, the winners will receive a prize of CHF 150.00.

Breaking Records & More

You have an absolute favorite move,
That you can execute for hours and have mastered perfectly?

Between the battles, you can show off your skills in the Longest Moves Competition. Handstands, windmills, headspins, backspins, and other moves. Which challenges are held will depend on your skill level. The contest will be hosted by Guinness World Record holder Patrick Grigo. We'll capture your best attempts on video and document them in the Breaking Record Database of and8.

Feedback from the judges

»After the preselections, we will open the door to exchange ideas.«

In a joint feedback session, you can speak directly with the judges, ask questions, and receive constructive feedback on your performance. We want to break down barriers and create a space where exchange on equal footing is possible. This way, you can gain new insights, get your questions answered and develop further as dancers.

Register & Participate

You can register for the 1vs1 battles online via www.and8.dance/e/5450 or via our website at www.themovementarena.ch (Please register in advance to avoid long waiting times at check-in. Thank you in advance).

No entry fee, no charges!

With us, the participants are the stars! Without you, our event would be an empty stage and not a platform for exchange, growth, and the next generation of hip hop and breaking culture. Therefore, THANK YOU for being there!

Thanks to the tremendous support and cooperation of our partners and sponsors, we are able to offer our participants a free stage and platform. We strive for the principle that events »from the scene for the scene« should not have any financial barriers and should be freely accessible, especially for activists.

Therefore: »Let's rock it!«

For spectators

BadenBreaks is an open event and therefore free for all visitors, parents, families and dance enthusiasts. So please come along anytime and celebrate hip hop and breaking culture with us in its purest form.

Anyone who would still like to give something back can put it in our donation box on site or via a Twint-QR-Code. Thank you very much
