

AEGROR Bandinfo

AEGROR is a Death/Black Metal band, founded in 2009 to create dark and epic metal.

The first result was the self-released debut-record „De Morbis“ in 2010.

As „De Morbis“ was mainly influenced by the melodic black metal of the mid 90's, the songs on their 2013 digital released EP „Forgotten Tales“ were more open-minded, modern and progressive. The musical direction of AEGROR turned into a new experimental, brutal and emotional dimension.

Lyricaly the band is dealing with themes of various diseases and psychological phenomena, which are with regard to the band's name in latin language: Disease.

After some line-up changes between the years 2012-2014, the band was focused on the writing and recording process for a new Album, which continues the former work of „De Morbis“ and „Forgotten Tales“ but in a more traditional and unique matching style.

The loose lyrical concept has been tied together to a consistent storyline filled with horror and madness, circling around the main character called Plaguebreeder.

The new Album is called „Dead Man's Diary“ and will be released on 02.06.2017 through STF-Records and the Satura-Publishing Company.

It will be the first out of four planned concept albums to be set in the world of the Plaguebreeder.

AEGROR has now found their own style and with a good working, stable line-up they will continue to infect the world.

Spread the plague!
