

Call for applications: International Scholarships (Master level)
at Jean Monnet University, Saint Etienne, France

Section 1: What it is about

Jean Monnet University, through its Foundation, aims to attract high level international students and support their studies in the frame of its international Master degrees, by offering scholarships (the objective is to welcome high level international students who aspire to further integrate Jean-Monnet University research laboratories for PhD studies).

No direct students' applications will be taken into consideration.

Interested students should first apply to each Master program. Upon the quality of the applications, the admission board will pre-select a few students. Those pre-selected applicants will be contacted directly by the Master coordinators and they will be required to fill in the scholarship application form before May 15th 2019.

Section 2: Conditions for applicants

Students of all nationalities are welcomed.

Applicants at the M1 level must have an undergraduate degree, such as a Bachelor Degree.

Applicants at the M2 level must have an undergraduate degree (such as a Bachelor Degree) and additional 60 credits (ECTS or equivalent)

The prerequisites are those corresponding (strictly associated with) to the curriculum of international Master degrees (see list below) of Jean Monnet University. More information is available on the international Master websites:

- CPS2 (Master program in Cyber Physical Social Systems): <https://www.emse.fr/~picard/cours/cps2/>

The scholarships will be primarily attributed to students enrolled at M1 level.

Applications associated with enrolment at the M2 level are also encouraged although reserved for very high level students.

Section 3: Conditions for students supported by a scholarship

Receiving a scholarship from Jean Monnet University Foundation does not exempt students from the necessary registration process through Campus France web site using the “Etudes en France” procedure (Campus France: <http://www.campusfrance.org>).

Selected students will be welcomed and assisted by the International relations service of Jean Monnet University. Contact: accueil.international@univ-st-etienne.fr

Section 4: Exclusions

Students that are already registered in the French educational system, at the time of the request, are excluded from the application process.

Jean Monnet University reserves the right to refuse a grant or change the terms of the grant if the information given on the candidate’s form, at the time of processing, proves to be false.

Jean Monnet University Foundation scholarships are not cumulative with other French scholarships.
