GIVE IT YOUR BEST SHOT

It's all about good hunting, good food, and good times in the Good Life.

How about 1,200+ acres of prime hunting ground? Our habitat is beaming with wildlife, and it's all right outside the front door.

Family-like hospitality is the name of the game and when it comes to home-cooked meals, we bring out the big guns.

As a family-owned outfitter, we understand that it's not just what you're doing, but where you're at and who you're with, that matters. It's all about the experience, and we take great pride in ours. Years from now, when you reminisce about the "good old days," you're going to be talking about times like these.

We have deer hunt and turkey hunting along with pheasants available. To make the prices as low as possible we have cut our deer prices down to bare bones and included lodging. In our area lodging can be few and far between and even then, if it is hunting season they are usually full. In an effort to keep them low we added the Trophy fee system which affects extremely few hunters, so this was a way to affect few hunters and keep our prices low. You never know what you will shoot but you have control of what you shoot. Most of our deer are below 150 class so the fee is a moot point.

But once in a blue moon since it is a rut hunt a buck will slip in from a neighbor's property looking for new does so it is a possibility that he may run into you. If you are worried about your ability to score a buck on the hoof, I will let you in on a secret. A 150" whitetail buck is a big buck, with a 150 getting into book class for rifle and even more so for Muzzleloader or archery. If you look back on your history of deer hunting you will see that you extremely seldom shoot a 150 or larger buck, this is just another year at another place. We have never had anyone pass on a buck because it is to big and I don't anticipate that will change.

CHADRON, Neb. – Nebraska's deer seasons wrapped up in mid-January and preliminary numbers show the harvest was up in the Panhandle. Through all seasons, hunters checked in 8,072 deer in the region compared to 7,815 the previous year — a 3.3 percent increase.

The Panhandle's overall number of harvested deer consists of 4,717 mule deer and 3,355 whitetails. Three of the four westernmost units in the state – Pine Ridge, Plains and Sandhills — reported more deer harvested this fall and winter than over the same period last year. Only the Upper Platte Unit experienced a decrease in harvested deer.

Micah Ellstrom of Alliance, a wildlife manager in the Nebraska Game and Parks Commission's northwest district, said the increased harvest is not surprising since Commission staff have gradually been observing more deer in the region.

"Deer numbers are improving from levels where they have been," Ellstrom said. "It is the result of slight increases over time district-wide."

The populations have improved from 2012 when drought and disease took a toll.

The most significant increase of harvest was in the Plains Unit, which lies between the Niobrara River and U.S. Highway 26 from the Wyoming line eastward to Hyannis and Arthur. Hunters there harvested 2,106 deer for a 9.7 percent increase over 2016.

The Pine Ridge Unit, which consists of all land north of the Niobrara River from the Wyoming line to Gordon, reported the most deer checked in of any Panhandle Unit with 2,343, a 3.3 percent increase over the previous year.

Hunters in the Sandhills Unit, which encompasses the expanse between Valentine, Gordon, Arthur and Stapleton, checked in 2,052 deer for a 4.6 percent increase.

The Upper Platte Unit in the Panhandle's southwest corner had 1,571 deer for a 5.6 percent decrease.

Most of Nebraska's deer harvest occurs during the nine-day November firearm season. The state's deer hunting begins in September with the archery season and runs through the muzzleloader season in December and the late-antlerless-only period in early January.
