

While looking at the stars one night on Cobblestone Island, eleven year-old Julia Bates and her twelve year-old sister, Lillian, overhear a shocking conversation. They hear a man and woman whisper about making strange concoctions. Later they discover in the woods, a crude little building full of bubbling pots containing mysterious brew. They are terrified when they look at the cauldrons and see, written in chalk, the names of people they know and love. Events come to a thrilling climax on the evening of a lunar eclipse. Ten year-old Paulina Bates and her twelve year-old brother, Luke, witness something horrifying. They rush off during the night to investigate. In the end, with the help of their three friends from a nearby cottage, Julia and Paulina each make an important discovery. They learn that God has given joy and peace, precious Fruit of the Spirit, to them and to all "Children of the Light."
