

We had a good laugh at the sign on the way in; mum and dad thought they were hilarious telling us to be on our best behaviour! Of course we would be...we always are!

The pub was packed, so it took us ages to find a seat: we ended up crammed into a corner, next to a woman and her son. He threw his food around, she shouted (a lot!)

While we were eating, she screamed, "Harry, where are you? Come back here NOW!"

No answer...

Amelia and I looked at each other and gulped!

Surely the sign wasn't real?

1. Do you think that the child narrating the story is well behaved? What evidence can you find to support your answer?
2. Why didn't they sit down, straight away, to eat?
3. Using adjectives, adverbs or similes – describe the people they sit next to.
4. Why do the narrator and Amelia gulp? Give reasons for your answer.
5. What do you think has happened to the boy? Why?

Be a detective.

When were pies first created? What were the most common fillings?

What was special about the crust on Cornish miners' pasties?

What was special about the filling of a traditional Cornish miners' pasty?

Where is Cornwall? What did they dig their mines to find?

Design a pie. What fillings will you put inside? Will it be sweet, savoury, or like the traditional Cornish pasty?

