Security Assessment

A high-level security assessment with one of our Security Experts to get a good understanding of how your business works, what needs protecting and what protection you already have in place. We identify where your business-critical systems are and help you to protect them. The straightforward assessment is based around the Cyber Essentials framework and will drive a key set of recommendations to make your business more secure.

Vulnerability Scan

We use the latest security technology to scan your website, VPN, webmail or any other Internet facing systems. We see what an attacker can see when looking at your company from the outside in. We search for areas of weakness so we can find what's leaving you vulnerable and fix it to minimise your risk of attack.

Basic Breach Monitoring

Whether by downloading Malware, clicking on a phishing email or by a third party losing your data your email and passwords (and those of your staff) may already be in the hands of cyber criminals. With our one-off/monthly search for stolen credentials, we find out if any of your email addresses or passwords have been leaked online so you can protect against account takeovers which are becoming all too common.

Technical Support

Be Aware+ Only

Technical support is time reserved for your company with one of our technical experts. Here's how you could use that time:

- To implement the security recommendations from your ½ day assessment with us
- To get advice on how to meet the security standards and achieve cyber essentials or cyber essentials plus
- To get advice on new projects, get help generating reports
- To get support with any new issues that have arisen that month

As a valued customer, any additional support hours will receive 20% discount.

Monthly Updates

We will send you a Monthly snapshot of the current threat landscape to enable you to identify and implement effective security measures. Our aim is to raise awareness of events happening right now in the Information Security world.

Your Security Journey

Cybersecurity is a must-have for every business and is as important as your daily routine of locking the doors, cashing up the till or running a fire drill. Knowing where to start and getting protected can be confusing, complicated and costly so we're making it simpler for you.

We're in it for the long haul, working in partnership with you to understand your people, process or technology and protect your evolving business technology. We don't simply sell a product and leave, we provide ongoing peace of mind by identifying and resolving vulnerabilities and providing you with an effective cybersecurity support package.

Using our expertise from working with Critical National Infrastructure and other large multinational organisations, we apply the same principles to help protect smaller organisations. Working as an extension of your security team, we can help you invest in better digital security that's fit for your business needs and your budget.
