St Piran's School Website Privacy Notice

Scope
This Privacy Notice covers the St Piran's School website only, and not other sites that may be accessed via links found on the school website.

Access to the School Website
When access is made to the school website, St Piran's School does not collect or store any personal information about visitors.

Contact Forms
If you send us a message using the embedded form on this website, your name, email address and the message will be sent by email to the school and may be held in our records. This information will only be used to provide you with a reply to your message.

Cookies
Cookies are small text files that are placed on your computer or mobile device by websites that you visit. St Piran's School uses cookies to enable our website to function effectively, and to improve your experience when visiting the website. The types of cookies used on our website are:

- IONOS Cookies: We use ionos.co.uk as our preferred CMS (Content Management System) to host our school website. ionos.co.uk does not use cookies that require the active consent of website visitors.

- Cookies to improve your experience: We use a small number of cookies on our website to help improve your experience. For example, if you contact us through our contact form, a cookie will be placed on your computer or mobile device to allow some information to be autofilled the next time you contact us. Additional cookies will be placed if you are an editor or administrator of the website.

- Embedded Content: Some of St Piran's School web pages include embedded interactive maps provided by Google. Google may set cookies to store information and preferences about maps or other associated Google services on pages where we embed Google maps. We are unable to prevent Google from collecting information on your usage of this embedded content. If you are not logged in to a Google account then they will not know who you are but are likely to gather anonymous usage information for example, other locations visited through the map.

- Analytics: Google Analytics cookies collect information about how visitors use a website and can help us to continually improve the website. For example, which pages are most popular with visitors, whether visitors use a computer or mobile device, which country the visitor is browsing from, which other pages within our website they also navigate to, and if they get error messages from web pages. All the information these cookies collect is anonymous and contain no information that might identify you.

Managing your cookie settings
You can block cookies by activating the setting on your browser that allows you to refuse the placing of all or some cookies. However, if you use your browser settings to block all cookies (including essential cookies) you may not be able to access all or parts of our website. To manage your cookie settings, please refer to your browser software.

Acceptance of cookie use
By continuing to use the St Piran's School website you are agreeing to our use of cookies. This is obviously subject to any preferences or browser setting you may have implemented.
